

BEST PLACES TO WORK

Best Places to Work: Arkansas Capital Corporation

by Arkansas Business Staff

Monday, Oct. 4, 2021 12:01 am 2 min read

ARKANSAS CAPITAL CORPORATION

Arkansas Capital Corporation is a private, nonprofit lending corporation dedicated to empowering entrepreneurs in Arkansas through partnerships with the lending community.

It has been a highly successful economic development company for 63 years because it invests in great employees and empowers them to contribute to the overall mission. Employees get the pride and sense of accomplishment in being part of an organization that has played a role in providing more than $2 billion in capital to businesses and entrepreneurs over its history, a claim no other non-depository, economic development company in the state can make.

Senior management at Arkansas Capital prioritizes its open-door policy and active engagement with employees of the organization. Employees are allowed to be themselves and are treated respectfully regardless of position.

The company provides a unique and friendly office environment with extensive natural light, modern furniture, paid parking and a full-size kitchen stocked with drinks that employees request.

Arkansas Capital allows employees to “do good by doing good,” which means they are supported and encouraged in their professional and personal lives, are provided excellent wage and benefit opportunities and are part of a daily positive environment. The average tenure of an employee is almost 14 years, which clearly demonstrates the satisfaction of the organization’s team members.

dedicated to empowering entrepreneurs in Arkansas through partnerships with the lending community.

It has been a highly successful economic development company for 63 years because it invests in great employees and empowers them to contribute to the overall mission. Employees get the pride and sense of accomplishment in being part of an organization that has played a role in providing more than $2 billion in capital to businesses and entrepreneurs over its history, a claim no other non-depository, economic development company in the state can make.

Senior management at Arkansas Capital prioritizes its open-door policy and active engagement with employees of the organization. Employees are allowed to be themselves and are treated respectfully regardless of position.

The company provides a unique and friendly office environment with extensive natural light, modern furniture, paid parking and a full-size kitchen stocked with drinks that employees request.

Arkansas Capital allows employees to “do good by doing good,” which means they are supported and encouraged in their professional and personal lives, are provided excellent wage and benefit opportunities and are part of a daily positive environment. The average tenure of an employee is almost 14 years, which clearly demonstrates the satisfaction of the organization’s team members.

###